SELF ACCOUNT

DSE is a huge challenge to every student, and to pass it with flying colors, we need to pay many efforts. Although there are many difficulties and challenges, I will not be defeated or feel frustrated because it is the only chance that I have. Not giving up is one of my characteristics as I am determined to further my studies in university. To succeed, no matter how hard it is, I am very clear that getting into university is my only goal at this moment.

When I was in F.4, I was weak in some subjects, such as Mathematics and Biology, but I didn't pay many efforts on them. Instead I still kept on playing computer games. Because of this, my results were bad in the exam. From that moment, I knew that time management was very important. I decided to set up a timetable. Although it was hard to follow the timetable, I trusted that being hardworking could help me improve. Finally I got a good result as I wished. Those good results boosted my confidence because they let me know that my study direction was right. It also gave me much motivation to work harder and better. Although these strategies lessen my leisure time, I can be more well-prepared for my public examination.

Besides trying hard to improve my academic results, I am also keen on playing sports. I like playing table tennis and basketball in my leisure time and I have also been involved in competitions at school for my class sometimes. I think sports can train my fitness and skills. Also playing sports teaches me that teamwork and team spirit are of utmost importance. The sportsmanship that I learnt guides me to be patient and a person with good attitudes. When I am defeated, I won't blame on my teammates, as I will reflect on myself to find out the mistakes I have made.

I was selected as the audit of the Students' Association when I was F.5. In this job I need to work with the treasurer on the report every month. From this I learnt that communication is necessary for every task involves different people or parties. Also, there are different posts in SA and they are responsible for different jobs. I learnt that to get a success I need good planning, organization and communication before doing anything, just like the work of SA.

I like to meet new friends, so I always join activities outside school with my friends. For example I joined many joint school voluntary projects. Besides meeting new friends, we can help the needy such as elderly and homeless children. In the school I also joined activities such as sports day and sponsored walk. From the process I can improve the relationship with my classmates or schoolmates as I know that good relationship can make my life in school more memorable.

I have chosen Economics and Biology as my electives. First, Economics emphasizes the understanding of concepts. If you don't have clear concepts, you will probably fail in your exam. Owing to this, I learnt that I should know all the concepts well before doing anything, otherwise I can't get good results as I wish. Second, I chose Biology because I think that it is just a subject about memorizing. However, Biology emphasizes applications. This teaches me a lesson that I need to do well in the application of the information I know but not just memorizing them.

Although there are different challenges ahead, I won't give up and I will turn the frustration into motivation, I will try my best to achieve good results in the DSE and achieve the goals that I have set for myself.

SELF-ACCOUNT
Since I was in primary school, I have already aspired to be a successful businessman. I have spent years planning myself to study the Bachelor of Business Administration for making my dream come true.
Ample preparation is the key to achieving my goal. Unlike the other students who chose BAFS or economics as their electives, instead, I selected physics, chemistry and information and communication technology which give me the knowledge other than physics. Nowadays, lots of commercial products involve the scientific and technological senses and the e-business is developing progressively. It is justified to invest my time and effort on accumulating science and computer literacy before entering the business field.
Thanks to my secondary school which provides me with rich and splendid school life. I have taken part in lots of activities such as the Prefect, the Badminton Club, the Library Club, the Career Club, the Physics Society, the Current Affair Society, the Outward Bound Student Organizing Group and the School Magazine as chairman, vice-chairman, committee member and chief editor. One of the special encounters was to tackle the disciplines of the senior students when I was a young friend. Another impressive achievement was to create the joint-school library events with five other secondary schools. We held interschool competitions and library visits in different universities. These experiences have shaped my character and strengthened my leadership, communication and problem solving skills, which are the crucial qualities of a good businessman.
The community services such as the visits to the poor or the disabled children in Guizhou and Qinghai and the serving of the new Mainland comes in Hong Kong have aroused my understanding of their needs and care for them in the future if possible.
For looking beyond my border, I have participated in my school Global Classroom and joined tours in the United Kingdom, Europe, Japan and Malaysia. The most reminiscent moment was the talk presented by the staff of Central Bank in Paris who plotted a global economic picture in my mind. I learned how to approach new ideas with an open attitude.

For building my copious business senses, I visited the Shanghai office of the Leader Momentum International Ltd in the summer of 2012. I studied the marketing operation in selling products in the department stores in China. The trip inspired me to equip my business knowledge and languages well before fighting the real battlefield. I then represented the Company as an agent for Acros, a Spanish knife manufacturer, in the Pre-selection Disposables Escosfor Young Talent Trophy in the summer of 2013. This unique chance enlightened me to have more self-confidence when interacting with different people. Also, the work satisfaction confirms me to be on the right track of the commercial field.

As far as the preparation of my career in business is concerned, the last puzzle is good academic equipment. With enthusiastic passion and enormous ambition, I hope you can grant me a chance to be nurtured in your elite university and accept me as a student of the business administration program.
